日本松涛館空手協会 Japan Shotokan Karate Association (Great Britain)

The Japan Shotokan Karate Association was founded in Japan on the 10th February 1999 by former JKA senior instructor Abe Keigo 8th Dan. It is one of the fastest growing Shotokan associations in the world. Abe Sensei was born on October 28th 1938 in the town of Iyoshi in Ehime prefecture on the island of Shikoken. When he was 18 years old he was accepted into the famous engineering program at Nihon University in Tokyo. He moved from his small town to the big city and began his college education. He began training at the JKA Honbu Dojo with a young and very powerful sensei named Nakayama Masatoshi who was to become his teacher and grandmaster. During this time, Abe Sensei was informed by master Nakayama that he was personally taught, not only by Funakoshi

KEIGO ABE

Gichin shihan, but also by Funakoshi Yoshitaka, his son. This is further reflected in the teachings of Abe Keigo sensei and the JSKA.

Where many famous, senior JKA instructors spent only 5 or 6 years fulltime training at the honbu dojo, before being sent out to teach as shotokan pioneers and 'missionaries' to other countries, Abe sensei taught and trained there, almost every day of the year for around 35 years.

JKA Honbu Dojo Instructors
Keigo Abe 3rd row, far right.

Abe Sensei became an instructor at the JKA in 1965 progressing to become an important member of the honbu teaching staff of the JKA instructor's programme and in 1985; he became JKA Director of Qualifications and from 1990, Technical

Director of the JKA (Matsuno section), a position he held until retiring from the JKA on 31st January 1999 before, and only at the behest of his students worldwide, forming the JSKA.

As one of the most senior JKA instructors of the time and through his unique position as a confidante and senior student of Nakayama Masatoshi shihan, he was an integral part of the evolution of Shotokan as we have come to know it. Abe sensei is also recognised and has been credited as having taught and influenced many of the senior Japanese instructors in the world today, some heading their own international groups, while in Japan his reputation and standing is such that in the past he has headed well over 50 international delegations and visitations for both the JKA and the Japanese government. He is one of only 10 karateka ever to have refereed/judged in front of the current Emperor of Japan and the only Shotokan stylist ever to have performed kata in front of him. This is such an honour in Japan and only those who are greatly respected ever attain this level of recognition. He is also an official instructor with the Japanese Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology, a national instructor and referee for the Japan Karate Federation (JKF), a WKF/WUKO International referee and when approached by Hollywood, he was chosen by Nakayama sensei personally to choreograph the fight scenes in the James Bond film, You Only Live Twice.

Abe Sensei is also accomplished in the tournament arena. He took 3rd place in the first JKA National Championships, was the captain of the Japanese team at the second World Championships in Paris, France, won 1st place at the 1973 JKA International Friendship Tournament, and took 1st place in both second and third JKF National Championships, as a representative of Tokyo. A highly rated and dangerously competent JKA fighter in his younger days, he was also responsible for devising the original rules for Ippon Shobu competition in a manner which preserved Budo through the concept 'killing with one perfect, decisive blow'. Although not well known, he is the fighter that kept the 'Shotokan Tiger' at bay. He fought Enoda sensei, who was already well renowned for his skills, ferocity and strength, in a major Japanese tournament. The fight went to 6 enchosen (extensions) with the bout being won finally by Enoda sensei, but only on hantei

(decision) which reflects Abe sensei's skill, technical abilities, spirit and tenacity in the dojo and his humility outside.

Abe Sensei has a great understanding of karate, from its philosophical and historical past, through the formation and development of Shotokan, into what he perceives the future to offer and is quoted as saying ;"I feel that today's Karate is centred only on winning competitions and everyone trains towards this end. This is far from the truth. I believe that the true purpose of Karate lies in daily training with a goal to develop a strong mind and body and furthermore to contribute to society in general".

He came to establish the JSKA to realise what he himself sees as the true Karate purpose. The JSKA philosophy is: 1) Learn self-defence as a martial art (budo); 2) Improve technique as an exercise; 3) Through karate training, develop a healthy body and mind.

To summarise, in an interview published in a UK karate magazine, a member of his Shihankai is quoted as saying about Abe sensei ' The man is a living legend and a part of history, when he teaches, what you are getting is Shotokan with a capital 'S', it is delivered as it was always taught at the JKA honbu. He teaches as Nakayama shihan taught him and teaches as he himself taught in the JKA instructor's programme, a programme that produced many great Japanese instructors. He is one of a small handful of very senior Shotokan karate-ka alive today who can deliver this level of instruction and claim this pedigree. He epitomises the 'do' in both karate-do and bu-do, a great man and a great teacher and the Shotokan legacy, through him, definitely continues'.

'There are of course many good karate instructors and many good associations, but there is simply only one Keigo Abe and only one Japan Shotokan Karate Association'

'The Legacy Continues'

日本松涛館空手協会

Japan Shotokan Karate Association (Great Britain)

To all member federations and friends of the Japan Shotokan Karate Association

JSKA (Great Britain) has pleasure in inviting you on behalf of Keigo Abe sensei and the JSKA Shihankai, to the JSKA World Open Championship 2008, to be held at the famous Manchester Velodrome, Manchester, England.

- Manchester is located at the virtual heart of the British Isles and is easily accessed via motorways from all English Channel ports and all major airports, of which Manchester has one of the largest international airports in the UK.

- Manchester is one of Britain's largest metropolitan conurbations, set in the old county of Lancashire, on the west side of the Pennine Hills, which form the backbone of the country. It was here that the modern world was born through the enterprise, industry and early development of its merchant skills, the coincidental admixture of climate, suitable natural resources and geography, the inventiveness of its people, the early building of transport infrastructures, and a powerful industrial entrepreneurial spirit which has long typified the region. The county still produces more than half of Britain's manufactured goods and consumables.
- Manchester has been inhabited for more than 2000 years, since Roman General

Julius Agricola built a fort just north of the site of present day Manchester, though it was not until the 18th century that this hitherto remote and inconspicuous little town sprang into the forefront of world attention by being the birthplace of the Industrial Revolution. The city and innumerable small towns and villages surrounding it saw the rapid growth of factories manufacturing merchandise for the textile industry, and became the prime region for this industry until its decline in the 1950s, when cheaper foreign imports sounded the death knell for the region's pre-eminence.

- Manchester is a big place. While 2.6 million people live within its actual boundaries, over 7 million others live in the wider region, making it second only to London in Great Britain. For 11 million people living within 50 miles of the City, it is the place where they come to work, or to shop or to visit the many attractions and entertainments which only a large city such as this could hope to offer.

- Manchester is an international centre. "The Times" newspaper places 80 of its top 100 companies in the city and over 60 Foreign and International Banks operate from here. Some 46,000 students currently study for Higher Education at its colleges and universities. More than 90 world airlines fly into Manchester Airport from 165 destinations world wide. In 1993 over 13 million people passed through the airport terminal, and that figure is soon expected to surpass 22 million.
- The Metropolitan County of Greater Manchester has the most extensive motorway network in the United Kingdom. It is accessible by road, rail and air. Manchester is 2½ hours from London by Intercity trains, of which there are on average 17 departures every day. The city has the UK's first modern street operating rail system - Metrolink - which other UK cities are eager to emulate.

- It is cosmopolitan - it offers more than 30 styles of foreign cuisine, with distinctive Chinese and Asian areas of specialty. It has 80 golf courses, more theatres than any other city outside London, two Premier League football teams, two major television companies, three Universities, two symphony orchestras, and many small chamber ensembles. It leads the field in music. Since the mid-1980s, Manchester popular music and bands have dominated music charts.

- It is also, by virtue of its central location within the British Isles, an excellent base for tourism. Within 1 hour's drive are 3 major National Parks (the Lake District, the Peak District, and the Snowdonia National Park). Also within an hour's drive are the seaside towns of the Fylde coast of Lancashire (Blackpool, Lytham St Annes, Southport, Morecambe, Fleetwood), as well as the great cities of Lancaster, York, Chester and Liverpool.

- The City also has many fine listed buildings. Within the greater region are 170 tourist attractions including some 34 historic houses, country parks, moors, plains, hills and 8 theme parks all within an hour's drive away. For people in the locality, Manchester is a place to live - for some it is a place to do business - and for others it is increasingly becoming a place to visit and enjoy as a Tourist.

Each nation is requested to bring two national flags and their national anthem on CD, to the tournament. (The Union Jack will be available on site but home countries should bring their national; Flags e.g. Scotland, England, Ireland and Wales)

We urge you to study this invitation thoroughly, and to continually visit our web-site www.jskagb.org for further updates. This web page will contain important information concerning your registration as well as all other information that might be useful for you.

Please ensure the timely and precise forwarding of all necessary forms. The deadline is 24th July, 2008.

In case you are in need of more explicit information on the World Championships, Abe sensei, and the JSKA or the JSKAGB, please do not hesitate to contact us via e-mail h: info@jskagb.org

We look forward to seeing you in Manchester, England and wish you all the best when taking part in the 2008, 4th JAPAN SHOTOKAN KARATE ASSOCIATION, WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Best wishes in Shotokan,

(JSKA-GB Chairman)

JSKA EMBROIDERED WIRE BADGE AND TIE FORM (WB/T)

After consultation with the JSKA Technical Committee, the JSKA-GB have ordered wire embroidered blazer/jacket badges and association ties, carrying the JSKA mon, for use at all official functions, refereeing etc. To ensure that we have ordered enough and to cover the cost of the order itself, we wish to know how many sets are required by each group. The sets will be £21 each and this will cover package and postage to your home country. It is the recommendation that all JSKA officials, referees, judges etc will wear both badge and tie at the World Championships next year. Ties and badges may be bought separately for £9 (ties) and £12 (badges) but all must be paid for prior to receipt of goods.

For JSKA members only
