1. Initial Greetings

1.1. Greetings from the FIJLKAM Italian Karate Federation President

It is a pleasure for me and for the Federation I am honored to chair to greet all the athletes of the “Karate 1 Youth League”, which from 13 to 15 December 2019 will liven up Jesolo.

Veneto region, with its enchanting Venice and particularly with the city of Jesolo, has always been a land of sports and hospitality, as the great number of previous events, within the famous Venice Cup, can demonstrate.

The news represented by the “Karate 1 Youth League” is big. The aim is to involve young athletes in the scenery of international high-level competitions. That means building a bridge towards the future of this beautiful sport, which in Tokyo 2020 will wear for the first time the Olympic uniform.

Our young karate competitors start today thanks to this event their way to the high technical level, and I am sure that this will be an important stepping-stone for their future.

I would like to thank all the people who worked hard for making alive this prestigious sport event: in particular the athletes, the instructors, the various associations and the families. But I would also like to thank the audience that constantly support and take part in this important event.

We must not forget to acknowledge who works behind the scenes, the Organizing Committee, the President Vladi Vardiero, the Multisport Veneto Association, who worked with passion and dedication in order to organize this project.

I also thank the city Council of Jesolo, special guest of these Karate events since ever, for its kindness and collaboration.

I wish you all to enjoy this prestigious sport event, therefore “Karate 1 Youth League Jesolo-Venice” will surely be a special occasion to honor and strengthen this beautiful sport in Italy and throughout the world.

Domenico Falcone

1.2. Greetings from the member WKF Executive Committee

Welcome to Jesolo, welcome to the city that gave me Christmases!

Let me express my warmest welcome as Honorary President of the WKF Youth League in Jesolo (Venice) to those who have the chance to participate in this 2nd edition.

The WKF Youth League circuit dedicated to the youngest in 4 stages and Italy has the honor of organizing the 4th and last World event.

The WKF Youth League offers to the youngest athletes a very high level competition in preparation for the next major official international competitions under the WKF and EKF flag.

An appointment that many Italian, foreign Athletes and National Teams from all over the world are waiting impatiently, sure to find a Location and an Organization worthy of the most important WKF competitions.

Italy and Fijlkam are at the forefront of organizing a World Event under the official WKF flag, a project started many years ago, under the guidance of Maestro Vardiero and his competent Staff preparing for the 2nd edition in the new location of Jesolo.

Fijlkam National Council Board

1.3. Greetings from the President of the Organizing Committee

As President of the Organizing Committee, I will strive to do my best at taking this second edition of the Youth League on!

The previous edition in 2018, which took place in Caorle, was the fourth stage of a WKF competition. It focused on youth categories whose athletes will be the future Olympic competitors.

However, along with this competition, the historical Venice Cup took place, too.

I have to remark that in those days we reached the highest number of participants, surpassing all the previous records! 5 Continents, 62 nations and 4000 athletes from over 600 clubs fought on fourteen tatami areas.

A world record! Such a vast number had never been recorded by any kind of karate competition.

The continuous growth in participants in events organized by the Organizing Committee, which I'm honored to be in charge, confirms that working with professionalism and accuracy is always rewarded.

Also, thanks to these achievements, our trust is retained by the Fijlkam (our national federation) and the WKF.

It is for this reason, that we will keep hardy working in order to enhance our services.

In 2019, since the highest demand of participants in both Venice Cup (28th edition) and WKF Youth League, we have decided, in order to guarantee a high-quality service, that the two competitions will take place in different locations and dates.

The 28th Venice Cup edition, will maintain its location in Caorle (Venice) and competitions will be held the 26-27th of October. To remember, the event is for the U21 and Senior categories.

Whereas, the second edition of the WKF Youth League will be hosted in Jesolo (Venice) at a new big and modern sport hall, which is a welcoming and spacious indoor sports arena. Many important International sport events are used to taking place here.

These two great events will help to reinforce the Karate's image throughout the world, which fits perfectly for its first time in the Olympic Games that are taking place in Tokyo 2020.

I dutifully have to thank the WKF President, Antonio Espinos, who gave us the opportunity to show to the world, our abilities in organizing.

Furthermore, a special thank goes to the Italian Karate Federation and its members, in particular the Fijlkam President, Domenico Falcone and the WKF executive member Davide Benetello whose contributions made possible to present this project to the World Federation.

I cannot forget to thank ASI President, Claudio Barbaro, who has always believed in our projects, and all the staff of ASI Karate Veneto, formed by our athletes' families, who will help us another time to realize these important events.

In conclusion, I want to wish you to live in Caorle or Jesolo a wonderful experience.

I am sure they will be two great events, full of sport whose fundamental principles and values, such as Respect and Tradition, will be standing.

This is the Sport we want!

Vladi Vardiero

20. City of Jesolo

Jesolo was originally a lagoon in which appeared many little isles.

The isle called by the Romans “Equilium” was the biggest one: the ancient group of people who inhabited this area (Paleoveneti) were famous all over the world as horse breeders and the toponym seems indeed to refer to these noble animals. Thanks to the help of Rome, the Paleoveneti managed to chase away the Gaules and, in exchange for protection, they allowed them to settle down pacifically in the modern-day Veneto region.

The Romans colonized these territories and they built streets, bridges and villages. They introduced their method of land measurement (known as Roman grid) and they made the soil arable by reclaiming swamp areas.

However, the fall of the Roman Empire brought insecurity: the Vikings finally managed to cross the border and invaded the land. The backcountry population found safe shelter into the lagoon and started the foundation of new settlements. In particularly Eraclea was founded by the inhabitants of Oderzo on the isle Melidissia and Jesolo on the isle Equilio.

Thanks to its strategic position, Jesolo was at the centre of the North-Adriatic maritime-trade. Protected by the lagoon, the village could spread undisturbed up to become episcopal seat.

Unfortunately, many wars, a tragic flood of the river Sile and the invasion of the Franks provoked the decay of the city flourishing port, that lost the episcopal seat at the beginning of the XII century.

The situation got worse until a patrician man from Venice named Soranzo built at his own expense on a field of family property a new church dedicated to St. John the Baptist, that later became a parish.

People started to move to this area: the new village of Cavazucchina established therefore around the church and the Republic of Venice reclaimed the area in order to move away from the two rivers (Piave and Sile).

Cavazucchina became a city only with Napoleon in 1806. After Napoleon's fall, the Austrian Empire created a land reclamation consortium (Consorzio Passerella) that aimed to improve the swamp areas of the lagoon.

In 1866 Jesolo was annexed to the Italian Reign. However, the situation did not improve and during the 1st World War Cavazucchina was damaged and people had to flee away.

Peace after the war allowed the village reconstruction. The biggest land reclamation work was realised between 1920-1930: cultivation of wheat, corn, beet, fruit trees and vineyards were introduced. In 1930 the city was denominated with its ancient name, Jesolo, and from 1936 Marina Bassa and Spiaggia took the name of Lido di Jesolo.

The agricultural renaissance coincided with the rediscovery of Jesolo: heliotherapeutic cure buildings, hotels and restaurants were born, and after the 2nd World War break, the city's economic growth became faster.

Today Jesolo is famous for its 15 km long beach. The city offers a lot of hotels, residences, apartments, camping grounds and all kind of entertainments to its tourists.

For those who are interested in the arts and in the archaeology, don't miss the "Ancient Walls" of the city, parts of the ancient Saint Mary of Equilibrium Cathedral. In this area in fact, pavimental mosaics attributable to the primitive early Christian church dedicated to Saint Mauro, that date back to the VI-VII century, represent an archaeological site of great historical importance.

21. City of VENICE

The name “Venezia” (Venice) and its early variants Venédia, Venétia, Venésia, Venéxia, Vinegia indicated all the territories of the pre-roman venetian folks. Venetia, is the name used in the administrative Augustean documents of the 7 A.D. Along with Istria it was part of the tenth region, the X Regio. The name was also used under the Byzantines who called the coastal region from Chioggia to Gradac “Venetikà” or, in latin, Venetia maritime.

The name came to indicate the duchy of Venice, and only later its capital. The city came to being in a later era bringing together the settlements on the islands.

A peculiarity of the latin name is that it is a plural substantive, perhaps because the city was conceived as the union of several smaller island centers who joined together, or in any case a plurality of elements.

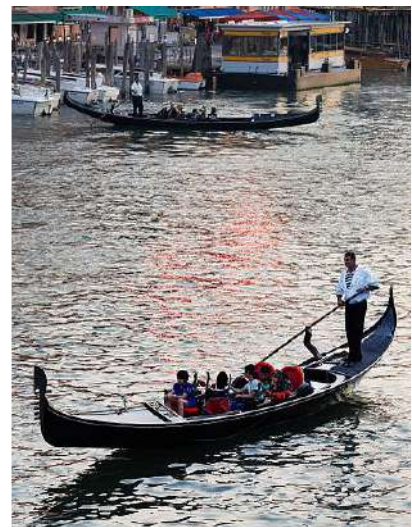

The old documents refer to the region in the singular, “Venetia” (Venetia et Histria, Venetia Maritima), while the city was referred to in the plural: Venetiarum Civitas, Venetiarum Res Publica, Venetiarum Patriarcha.

The territory of the city of Venice is split into six administrative municipalities, and is clearly divided into the lagoon area (the historical center and the islands) and the mainland.

The historical center is located in the middle of the namesake lagoon, on a total of 118 islands, consolidated over the centuries thanks to wooden pilings, which have allowed urbanization. Some of these are collected in groups while others are more disperse. The city center is threaded by a maze of waterways that require the use of bridges to cross, and it is a pedestrian zone.

The historical city, with its 797.96 hectares of surface (excluding the waterways and the biggest islands), is one of the largest historical centers of Italy and Europe. The entire extension of the insular city, including the islands in the lagoon, like Murano and Burano, is 1688.91 hectares.

The historical city is divided into six districts or “sestiere” (plural “sestieri”): Dorsoduro, Santa Croce, San Polo, San Marco, Cannaregio and Castello.

The “sestieri” are built around the double bend of the Grand Canal, the main waterway from which a dense network of minor canals extends. There are many urbanized islands in the lagoon but some are now deserted. The largest islands (part of the municipality themselves) are Murano, Burano – renowned respectively for glass work and lace-making – Torcello, Sant’Erasmus, Pellestrina and the long and narrow Lido with its beach resorts.

The monuments of the city of Venice are found almost entirely in the historical center and the islands of the lagoon, the mainland is almost devoid of places of interest. The most famous landmark in Venice is “Piazza San Marco”, the principal square and the only one that goes by the Italian name of “piazza” as all other urban spaces in the city are called “campi” (fields). St. Mark’s Basilica dominates the square. It is golden in color and covered with mosaics about the history of Venice, along with bas-reliefs depicting the months of the year.

Above the main entrance, stand the four bronze horses of Constantinople, taken to Venice following the 4th Crusade in 1204. The church has a Greek cross plan and five large domes. The present Basilica is the third church of St. Mark, and it stands in place of the previous two that were destroyed. This version was inspired by the Church of the Holy Apostles of Constantinople (destroyed by Muslims a few years after the conquest of 1453), of which it is a sort of scaled down replica.

The interior is full of gilded mosaics that depict biblical events and allegories. Originally it was the chapel of the Doge of the Republic of Venice. Next to the Basilica is the Doge’s Palace. The two are joined by the “Porta della Carta” (Paper Gateway) that today is the exit of the Doge’s Palace Museum. Nowadays the main entrance is on the waterfront side, facing the lagoon. It was built in the 15th century with Istrian marble to be the seat of the government of the Serenissima. Before that there was a fortress that was set to fire to oust Peter IV Candiano, who had taken refuge inside during a riot.

To be seen are the Higher Council Hall (Sala del Maggior Consiglio), which for centuries was the biggest government hall in the world, the Bridge of Sighs (Ponte dei Sospiri) and the prisons, the “Piombi” (“Leads” in English).

Opposite to the Doge's Palace stands the bell tower, Campanile di San Marco. Built in 1173 as a lighthouse, it was renovated by Bartolomeo Bon in the 15th century. On the 14th of July 1902 it fell to the ground and was completely rebuilt.

The Veronese red marble lodge (Loggetta) was built by Jacopo Sansovino. It has bas-reliefs depicting the feats of the Lion's Republic.

Other important monuments in Venice are the Arsenal, the Basilica of Santa Maria della Salute, the Basilica of Santa Maria Gloriosa dei Frari and the synagogues of the Ghetto.

Venice is also renowned for its historical cafès. Coffee was imported from the Ottoman Empire around 1615, and from the year 1683 cafès started spreading throughout the city. The famous "Caffè Florian", was opened on the 29 December 1720, in Piazza San Marco, under the arcades, and it is still open to this day. The equally illustrious "Caffè Quadri" was opened in 1775.

Venice also houses the precious Peggy Guggenheim collection. The museum exhibits masterpieces by renowned artists including: Ernst, Modigliani, Picasso, Miro, Pollock and Kandinsky.

The islands of Murano, Burano and Torcello are the most important tourist attractions of the lagoon. The Venice Lido is an enjoyable seaside resort, and home to the famous Venice Film Festival.
